

Unit 2: Subject/object pronouns

Health

Directions: Choose the correct pronoun to replace the underlined word.

Oscar goes to the drugstore to buy some medicine for his wife Norma. Oscar

- a. Him
- b. He
- c. She called the drugstore one hour ago to get the prescription filled.

Clerk: Can I help you?

Oscar: Yes. I want to pick up the medicine for my wife. Is her prescription ready? My wife needs the medicine right now.

- |        |         |
|--------|---------|
| a. Her | a. it   |
| b. He  | b. them |
| c. She | c. him  |

Clerk: What is her name?

Oscar: Norma Marin, M-A-R-I-N. She will be angry with me if it isn't ready.

Clerk: Oh! I know you and your wife. My husband and I met you last month.

Oscar: That's right! I enjoyed talking to your husband at the game.

- a. him
- b. he
- c. them

Clerk: I'll tell him that I saw you. Here are your wife's tablets. You can pay for the tablets here.

- a. it
- b. they
- c. them

(Oscar gives her a ten-dollar bill, and she gives

Clerk: Here is your change.

him too much change.)

Oscar: Oops! You gave me an extra dollar.

Clerk: Oh! Thank you for telling me. I hope your wife gets well soon.

Oscar: Thank you. I'll tell her when I get home.

Clerk: Thank you for buying your medicine from us! Have a nice day.

Oscar: Bye-bye!

